the second, but there were two out at the time and the fervently yearned for tally was not for "slandow."

The seventh inning was fruitful in promise and barren in results. Seymour, the first Red up, was hit by a pitched ball, but the next three men went out with a rush. It was in New York's portion of the inning that the ubiquitous Cincinnati outfield threw a wet blanket over New York's hopes. Mertes landed hard on the ball and drove it to deep centre. Seymour started out as soon as the ball was hit and, judging the flight of the leather with rare discernment, gathered the ball in with outstretched hands while still running out with it. Dunn struck out, and Lauder sent a short low fly to right. Denlin took care of this lick by running in with all his speed and catching the ball close to the ground.

The momentous ninth began with Kelley hitting safely to right. Seymour moved him up with a sacrifice and Donlin struck out. Just at this point was where the stampeding of Mathewson came in Beckley stung a hummer along the third base line for two bases and Kelley scored. Steinfeldt drove the ball over Van Haltren's head for three bases and Beckley scored. Corcoran sent the ball through short, scoring Steinfeldt, and Magoon lammed it to left for two bases, scoring Corcoran. A single by McGann, passe ball, single by Bresnahan and a force-out gave the New Yorks their run.

CHICAGO (N. L.), 6; BROOKLYN, 3.

Those who saw the Chicagos beat the Brooklyns at Washington Park yesterday were not surprised that Selee's team is well up in the race. The Chicagos played one of those alert, snappy, hustling games, which generally carry the day. The game, for that matter, was a lively ene on both sides, but the playing of the Chicagos appeared to have the more ginger in it, because the Chicago outbatted the erratic Brooklyns. Pitcher Thielman of Brooklyn was much less of a factor in the contention than was Pitcher Wicker of Chicago. Individually, Johnny Kling, the Chicago catcher, was most in the eye on account of his pair of long-distance hits. He made a single, a triple and a home run. Other little men who were giants with the stick were Casey and Slagle, the hard hitting of the day being in an inverse ratio to the inches of the batter.

CLOSE BRUSHES ON SPEEDWAY.

McMillan Defeats Ted by Inches in Two Exciting Trials. Speedway stretch and finish two heats with one calculated to enthuse any lover of harness sports. This was what the spectators saw vesterday, when Nathan Straus, behind the black trotter Ted, 2:15%, tried to take the measure of the bay trotter McMillan, 2:17½, with Dr. John F. Moore at the reins.
The horses scored four times before a start ras made for the first heat, and then soon after getting around the turn Ted, with his immense stride, hit the axle of the wagon and made a break. It was a handy one, but it cost him two lengths of valuable ground, and it required an electric burst of speed to recover it by the lengths of valuable ground, and it required an electric burst of speed to recover it by the time the quarter-mile post was reached. From this point to the finish a large blanket would have covered both horses, so evenly did they move, stride for stride. As they neared the finish Mr. Straus drew his whip and asked for a final effort, but Ted was already at the limit. With both horses strung out to the last link they swept between the finishing posts, so closely in line that McMillan won by not more than six inches.

The second heat was a better contest, if possible, because neither horse made any instake.

If the two horses had been harnessed together they could not have trotted the heat more closely. From start to finish each owner worked with might and main and the whip cracked sharply at the finish. Again the crowd directly in line saw Mc-Millan's head in front and it was voted one of the best contests from first to last ever decided over the course.

The balance of the programme was good. Michael Reed, behind William E. 2:22%, won a number of good brushes. A. B. Gawthmey drove Blondle, 2:13%, to a number of good victories. Ilderim, 2:23%, to a number of good victories. Iderim, 2:23%, to a number of good victories. Iderim, 2:23%, civen by William Clark, won often, and Royal Rene, 2:20, beat his persistent rival Damiana, 2:22%. Crystal Chimes was also a winner over the good mare Nelly Wilkes.

The entire consignment was made up of young and partially developed horses that had yet to get the finishing touches before going into active service or the shew ring. All were got by the grand show herse Matchless of Londesboro, or by his sons crossed with native mares of Morgan and other trotting strains. While the prices were not sensational, the average was good, and some buyers secured bargains that promise show ring quality.

R. T. WILSON JR'S COLT DEFEATS BON MOT.

Numeral Takes the Handicap From Hunter Raine Severeign Wins Again-Tim Sullivan Triumphe-Three Paverites Finish in Front at Morris Park Track.

The quality of the card at Westchester yesterday afternoon was below the usual standard. The fields, as a rule, were small and ard. The fields, as a rule, were small and at first glance the programme looked to be easy of solution. Three favorites and a second choice, together with a well-backed good thing, enabled the talent to deal another series of body blows to the ring. The weather was all that could be desired for the sport of kings, and probably 8,000 patrons visited the track.

The only stake feature was the Harlem Selling, for three-year-olds and upward, at a mile. R. T. Wilson Jr.'s Highlander was so well fancied that he was played down from evens to 1 to 2. Frank Farrell's Colonist was also heavily played at fours, but he did not have the services of his regular rider, Hoar, who could not make the weight. Highlander was taken to the front by Burns with-out delay and made all of the running, but he not have the services of his regular river, Hoar, who could not make the weight. Highlander was taken to the front by Burns without delay and made all of the running, but he tired in the stretch and took a hard drive before he won by a head from Bon Mot, a 10 to 1 shot, who was a head before Colonist. The latter with Fuller up, sulked the greater part of the way, but finally came with a nighty rush in the stretch and in a few more strides would have possibly taken the place. The time was it it.

The betting on the $1,200 handicap at a mile and a sixteenth over the hill, was confined to Pierre Lorillard's Numeral and Alexander Shield's Hunter Raine. Both opened equal favorites at 7 to 5, tat: Hunter Raine was sent to the poet an even money choice, while Numeral recoded to $ to 5. Rosanoo showed the way for nearly three-quarters of a mile. Then McWilliams went to the front, but he did not last long, for coming down the long stretch from the hill Numeral and Hunter Raine drew away and fought it out to the wire, Mr. Lorillard's colt receiving the verdict by three parts of a length, O'Neil riding a very clever finish. McWilliams was six lengths behind. The winner's time was 1:46%, a quarter of a second slower than the track record, made by Ethelbert in 1800.

O'Neil rode another winner, in the fifth event for platers at seven furlongs on the Withers course, when after following the pace set by Young Henry, second choice, he landed H. M. Mason's Remorse, alz to 1 shot, winner by a length in a sharp drive; Young Henry holding the place easily from Syrlin, the favorite, by three lengths. Fourteen horses ran and the time was 1;29½, only half a second slower than the record for the track.

A dozen three-year-olds started in the opening event at six furlongs. The tailout made David Gledeon's Sovereign an odds-en favorite with Julius Fleischmann's Stroller second in favor at fours. MEXICAN TO TRY FOR DERRY. R. T. Wilson, Jr., Expects His Colt to Make Amends for Defeat of The Parader.

CHICAGO, May 12 .- R. T. Wilson, Jr., who has had a heartache ever since the defeat of his pride, The Parader, in the American Derby in 1902, by Robert Waddell and Terminus, is determined to again try for the great Western stake, and, now that Mexican has perern stake, and, now that Mexican has performed so well in the East, it is said that Mr. Wilson has fully made up his mind to send Mexican to Washington Park, and he will also make a strong effort to have Tommy Burns ride him.

This much was definitely settled upon when the son of Mirthful-Llandrinio won the last race at Morris Park yesterday in a sensational manner from Zoroaster and River Pirate. Mexican's price in the future books on the Derby has been cut from 40 to 1 to 25 to 1. CROKER'S CASTOFFS WIN.

Vendale and Ypslianti, Formerly in His stable, Capture Important Races. Special Cable Despatch to TER SUN.

LONDON, May 12.—Special interest centred in the two big races of last week for the Chester Cup and the Jubilee Handicap, owing to the fact that the winners of both events were selling platers formerly owned by Richard Croker. Vendale, the winner of the Chester Cup, was claimed in the interest of the present owner, Mr. George Thursby, for £250, after having run a disappointing race at Gatwick last year. Mr. Croker parted with Ypsilanti, the winner of the Jubilee Handicap, for £460, after the colt had won a two-year-old race at Hurst Park last year. The value of the two races won by these horses last week is about £5,000. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

being started at an early day, Gen. Mena being started at an early day, Gen. Mena said: "Two sets of plans are now under consideration by the directors, one or the other of which will probably be accepted within a brief period. The racing season will probably open in the spring of each year. "Upon the first day of the season the Mexican Derby will be run, for which the club will give $20,000 in added money. This much has been settled. Another item that has been settled is that the stands, stables and other buildings will be built principally of steel and stone and will be most ornamental and picturesque." Turf Notes.

JOCKEY SHAW IS SUSPENDED

BECAUSE OF A RIDE ON ILLYRIA AT JAMAICA.

Ben Howard Won the Race and Stewards Investigate as to Which Horse a Weil-Known Plunger Played-Illyria's Race With Mizzen Reveals Change of Form.

After an investigation held at Morris Park yesterday the stewards of the Jockey Club suspended Jockey Willie Shaw. The investigation was made on the port of the Metropolitan Jockey Club. trouble is due to Shaw's ride on "Father Bill" Daly's Illyria in a race at Jamaica on May 6, when Illyria and Locket from the same stable were coupled favorites. Ben Howard and Schoharie, both backed down, finished first and second, respectively, with Locket third. Illyria was never prominent, ap-parently having no speed and being eased up in the last sixteenth by Shaw. In the Toboggan Handicap at Morris Park on Saturday, Illyria, a 60 to 1 shot, showed a sur-prising reversal of form when he ran second to August Belmont's Mizzen. According to a rumor that was circulated at the track it was said that a well-known plunger was implicated and that the investigation had been made to find out whether he had bet on Illyria or on Ben Howard.

The layers' sheets on the race were taken up and the matter was sifted thoroughly.

This is the first semblance of scandal that has occurred at a metropolitan track since the opening of the season.

The stewards at the meeting yesterday also refused the application of John White for a trainer's license. An appropriation of $100

Morris Park Bacing Gossip.

Jockey Minder, who rides for August Belmont, accepted his first mount yesterday since he was seriously shaken up in the acci-dent at Aqueduct. He rode Mr. Belmont's Sallmaker in the first event, and no sooner had the barrier been raised than the gelding stumbled and Minder was unseated. He hung on to the bridle to save himself, but finally let go, and his foot catching in the stirrup, the boy was dragged for a hundred yards be fore he could get free. His escape from fatal injury was miraculous.

The colors of the Lotos Stable were carried to the front for the first time this season, when Ishlana took the third race. This was a genuine good thing which Trainer Ed Heff-ner had kept so well to himself that there was as much as 12 to 1 on tap in some of the books. The money was shrewdly placed was as much as 12 to 1 on tap in some of the books. The money was shrewdly placed throughout the ring, and it was said that the stable succeeded in effecting a mild killing.

Frank Parrell put a big commission on Tim Sullivan, even though the price was 1 to 3, and made preparations to clean up heavily on the day with Colonist, but the sulking of the Sir Dixon colt, coupled with a rather inferior ride from Fuller, knocked Mr. Farrell's plans skyward.

Sovereign's victory insures his appearance in the Withers Stakes on Saturday, as Mr. Gideon believes that he has a high-class colt who can take the measure of most of the cracks of his age. Sovereign has not been beaten so far this year and has increased Mr. Gideon's bank roll by several inches.

A. Featherstone's Mesmer ran so well in the first race, when he finished second to Sovereign, that his owner decided to start him in the Withers, and Cochran has been engaged to ride him.

John E. Madden has sold the two-year-old colt Pulsus, by Top Gallant—Glen Hop, whom he purchased the other day from "Bud" May, to E. R. Thomas: price not made public.
